Peer-Review Journal Articles, N=138
Book Chapters, N=4
Patents, N=2

Book Chapters: N=4

Patents: N=2

1. D’Ambrosio R, Smyth M, Rothman SM, Miller JW, Fender JS, inventors; University of Washington (Seattle, WA); Regents of the University of Minnesota (Saint Paul, MN); Washington University in St. Louis (St. Louis, MO) assignees. Methods and Devices for Brain Cooling for Treatment and Prevention of Acquired Epilepsy. US patent# 8,591,562. Issue Date: 11/26/2013.

Peer-Review Journal Articles: N=138

84. Murphy SP, Bulman C, Shariati B, Hausmann L. Submitting a manuscript for peer review - integrity, integrity, integrity. Journal of neurochemistry. 2013:n/a-n/a. PMID:24372200

86. Nutt SE, Chang EA, Suhr ST, Schlosser LO, Mondello SE, Moritz CT, Cibelli JB, Horner PJ. Caudalized human iPSC-derived neural progenitor cells produce neurons and glia but fail to restore function in an early chronic spinal cord injury model. Experimental neurology. 2013;248C:491-503. PMID:23891888  PMC: 4109283

88. Ojemann GA, Ojemann J, Ramsey NF. Relation between functional magnetic resonance imaging (fMRI) and single neuron, local field potential (LFP) and electrocorticography (ECoG) activity in human cortex. Front Hum Neurosci. 2013;7:34. PMC: 3576621

107. Sekhar LN, Mantovani A. Surgical Approaches to Brain Stem Cavernous Hemangiomas. World neurosurgery. 2013. PMID:23920304

130. Wang DB, Garden GA, Kinoshita C, Wyles C, Babazadeh N, Sopher B, Kinoshita Y, Morrison RS. Declines in Drp1 and parkin expression underlie DNA damage-induced changes

